Headline:
Showers likely turning thundery at times on Monday.

Today:
Early rain will soon clear ahead of showers and the occasional sunny interval. These showers will be heavy at times along with likely hail and thunder. Humid, and feeling warm in any sunshine. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers continuing overnight, again, these heavy at times with a risk of thunder. A band of heavy rain may edge into Dorset by dawn. A mild night. Minimum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tuesday:
Another day of showers and sunny spells, with these showers turning heavy at times and potentially thundery too. Becoming dry with long clear spells overnight. Feeling warm in any sunshine. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Largely clear and dry with isolated showers on Wednesday. Much the same but cloudier on Thursday before a return to largely clear and dry conditions on Friday. Feeling warm.
